- Pick one of the missions in this episode; you are a Docent (a person who acts as a guide) for that mission. Create a script for you or for a Visitors' Guide. The Visitors' Guide can be like a brochure or a PowerPoint that the visitors can view and listen to (record your voice!)
 - Missions often have beautiful gardens. If you have access to a garden, take pictures, pull weeds, tend to the plants so that the gardens can be enjoyed for many years. What could you add to the garden to make it interesting?
 - Imagine that you were working at a marketing firm and had the assignment of creating a social media post that included a compelling image and tagline/phrase that would get more people interested in visiting the missions. For this task - identify an audience (school children, adults etc.) for your post, decide on an image that you feel would capture your audience's attention & create a tagline/phrase that is witty, concise and catchy. Take an image of your post and email (or mail) it to the CA Missions Foundation PO Box 23035, Santa Barbara, CA 93121 info@californiamissionsfoundation.org
